While there, Griffin makes a tremendous discovery, he found a rare Babe Ruth baseball card. Griffin goes to trade it in at a local sports memorabilia shop but ends up getting swindled by the no good collector, S. Wendell Palomino. Griffin decides he must put a plan in place. He gathers a team of friends and one enemy with one thing in mind, to steal his baseball card back. But like any plan it had flaws and some things get crazy. They must get by many obstacles like guard dogs, security systems and a secret hiding spot for the card. But the man with the plan will never go down without a fight.
